

Table of Contents

Volume 8 No. 1, 2023

Being Black in the United States & Critical Race Theory

From the Editors

Edith Gnanadass, Elliott Dawes & Joni Schwartz-Chaney

Articles

Backlash: The Primordial Response to (Teaching) Critical Race Theory and U.S. History

Nadine V. Wedderburn

We have seen this before: The racial status quo and “anti-CRT” discourse

Chaddrick D. James-Gallaway & Adrienne D. Dixon

Counternarratives as Truth-telling: Survival, Community & Racial Justice in Higher Education

Dianne Ramdeholl & Jaye Jones

The Beliefs about Higher Education for Prisoners Through the Lens of Public Health Prevention

Holly Harner & Brian Wyant

Only Connect: The Growth of Relationship when Prisoners and College Students Study Together

Eleanor Novek

Using Digital Book Clubs during the COVID-19 Pandemic to Minimize the Distance of Social Distancing

Anderson Smith & Jody Polleck

Reflections

The Value of Brick and Mortar

Lynell S. Hodge

I's Tired Boss: Reflections of a Southern Black Woman Higher Education Professional

Angela S. Kuykendoll

Practice of Freedom

The Intersectionality of Black Women in The Civil Rights Journey

Madelyn McClarey

The most outstanding institution I am grateful for (Indatwa ihora kw'isonga nshimira)

Sorive Niyotwizeye, Serge Gasore & Jeremy Bohonos

Book Reviews & Resources

Reading While Black: African American Biblical Interpretation as an Exercise in Hope

Review by Andrea Emmanuel

Confronting Institutionalized Racism in Higher Education: Counternarratives for Racial Justice

Review by John R. Chaney

Health Equity, Social Justice and Human Rights

Review by Nakita Dolet